

Regional Aftersales Manager – South of England

Mitchell Powersystems, a member of the Turner Group of Companies, forms part of the largest privately owned Diesel Engineering organisation in the United Kingdom.

We are seeking to fill a vacancy within the Aftersales Team, for a Regional Aftersales Manager, operating in the South of England.

Reporting to the Sales Director, the successful candidate will represent all aspects of our company, in particular our Aftersales offerings, in a customer facing sales role.

Working within our existing customer base and generating new business through prospecting and targeting, this varied and challenging position involves daily activities, ranging from customer negotiations to creating and implementing marketing incentives.

This rewarding role demands many skills such as communication, self-motivation and a positive “can do” attitude. The successful applicant will have a sound sales experience and be comfortable communicating with customers at all organisational levels, from cold calls to board room discussions. A willingness to travel and flexibility to deal with changing environments, is essential to be successful in this role.

If you have the desire to win, and the determination to succeed and wish to be considered for this exciting position, please forward your CV to careers@mitchells.co.uk.

A competitive employment package is on offer commensurate with skills and experience.
